- All applicants are expected to show us a portfolio of creative work which helps us to assess their creative and visual thinking. You normally bring the portfolio to your interview. If you are applying from another country and unable to travel to interview in the UK send us a PDF version of your portfolio or a link to your online folio.
- Your portfolio should contain examples of design work and any other creative work which may be relevant to your application. We will be looking for evidence of professional knowledge and skills, good written and visual communication and, especially, good creative thinking evident through examples showing your design process.
- All work in the portfolio should have clear descriptive text saying what the images show, what was the project brief/context for the work and what were the main points you aimed to address in the work. You should also indicate when and in what circumstances the work was done for example BA, professional practice etc. Your portfolio may be reviewed in your absence so make sure your text and images tell us the project stories so we can clearly understand it.
- We are interested to see examples of the development process that went into your work, as well as the final outcome, we will also be looking at the level of organisation and communication skill which went into preparation of the portfolio.

Your portfolio should:

- show examples of your recent visual practice including, where possible, work that gives an idea of the themes and areas you'd like to develop on the course
- include preparatory work like sketchbooks or contact sheets to show how you develop and resolve visual ideas
- include projects where the experimental approaches and developmental work is evident, regardless of how successful the final outcomes are. These can be more valuable points of insight than a series of highly finished pieces.
- If you're an international applicant, please host your portfolio online if possible and let us know the URL, or email it to us as a PDF. We'll also accept CDs or hardcopy sent by post to our International Admissions Office, but please note that these will not be returned to you.

- Your portfolio should feature examples of research and the development of your ideas and projects – this should be highly presentable and well organised. It may be useful to arrange your work into themes, styles or chronological order. This will demonstrate good organisational skills and your own artistic awareness.
- It should exhibit your creative journey, thinking processes and individual personality, so we can assess your potential. It's also important to show both your inspirations and aspirations, as your portfolio should say a lot about you and your creative identity, as well as the course you're applying for.
- Documenting the development of your ideas in a sketchbook is a great way to show us how you approached the task of creating your work, allowing us to gain insight into your creative thought processes and approach to your subject, and demonstrating a clear rationale.
- Make sure your portfolio is well presented. Remember, our tutors will only have a short amount of time to look through each portfolio, so you need to organise your work intelligently. Put some of your most attention grabbing and interesting work at the front and lead the viewer through your journey by exhibiting pieces of work that showcase a variety of skills, materials, techniques and influences – this might include paintings, drawings, photography, digital pieces, storyboards, animation images or written work. And be sure to end your portfolio with the rest of your strongest work, so we're left feeling excited about your talent. Highlight your favourite pieces too, and indicate what or who inspires you.

- Physical examples of practice (printed matter, objects, painting, sculpture etc.) are acceptable at interview; for bulky or larger pieces of work that are too difficult to transport, our preference is for these to be shown as photographs, or evidenced through digital photographic documentation.
- Sketchbooks: these should demonstrate your creative thinking and problem solving skills.
- Film, video, animation and sound work should be no more than 2-5 minutes long, and available on a suitable format for presentation at interview. This could be on a laptop, memory stick, or as a digital file.
- If you are submitting a showreel of moving image related work, this should be no longer than 5 mins duration.
- Include any links to relevant websites or blogs that contain your work.
- Include any relevant examples of written work, as appropriate.
