The full portfolio should be no more than 30 pages comprising your work and/or relevant documentary material, and evidence your current creative practice.

Your digital portfolio should demonstrate:

- The full range and level of your design, technical and practical skills
- Your thinking and decision making in the design process
- Your personal vision and approach to design.

Your portfolio should contain at least one fully documented design process showing: A project brief and your research into or interrogation of the brief (This could be a client or college brief or a brief you might have set yourself)

- Inspirations and initial ideas (where do these come from?)
- Visual and conceptual development of these ideas (sketching and/or alternative methods)
- Drawing/design of objects based on these visual/conceptual developments
- Iterative model making, production and refinement of objects
- Final product(s), object(s) and/or presentations such as exhibitions etc.

Following the review of your application, indicative project proposal and portfolio, we select a small number of applicants to move on to the next stage of the process. These applicants will be invited to an interview either in person or by skype.

For the academic team to consider your application, you're required to submit at least 12 examples of your practical work.

Your work can be in the form of images, photographs, drawings or other media.

You should include:

- your design-related work which show your 2D and 3D design capabilities, including project development sketches
- any other work which demonstrates your visual interests
- five slides on sketchbook or personal work.

You should also include dates and descriptions of the projects, including the reasoning behind why they were undertaken.

Making sure your work is in the correct format and adheres to our guidelines is important.

Your portfolio should:

- be submitted as a PDF Microsoft PowerPoint presentation and/or Apple QuickTime presentation
- be no more than 20 slides – this will allow you to include more than one image of each piece of work, if required, plus short descriptions
- be submitted as a single unzipped file not exceeding 10 megabytes (mb).

Further guidance on how to submit your digital portfolio will be sent via email during your application process.

Where images are inserted into your presentation, they should be:

- in JPEG format
- a maximum of 72 dots per inch (dpi).
