The portfolio is the most important part of your application. It allows us to build up a picture of your capacities to draw, make things, think creatively, manipulate form, organise information, and handle ideas.

Content

- On the first page of the portfolio incorporate your name and UUN (if applicable)
- Include a brief CV and your personal statement after the first page
- Include examples of your work (see below) after your personal statement

Focus

- Your portfolio should include examples of work undertaken as part of a formal programme of study, while in practice, and as part of self-initiated projects.
- The focus of the portfolio should be on your best and most recent work.

Your best work

- This doesn't mean you should limit submissions to presentation images alone. Include sketches, studies and working drawings. If possible, include examples from your design sketchbooks and notebooks.

Most recent work

- It is important to present your most recent work, but if you have had a longer period in practice or have a diverse educational, professional background, you should include work that would best show the wider scope and development of your career.

Varied work

- Include work which varies in terms of kind, scale and media:
- Kind: architectural design, speculative projects, art, built, research
- Scale: furniture, buildings, urban design, regional studies
- Media: freehand drawings, technical drawings, computer drawings, models, sculptures, live performances, paintings, installations, video
- Organise your work so that the admissions panel can see and appreciate your development.

英国建筑设计（硕士）院校信息-2020 版本

Format

- Your portfolio should be presented digitally as a PDF document. Make sure the portfolio is saved as a single PDF file.
- The pages should be set up at A4 size, organised in landscape format.
- Images should appear at a high enough resolution to be clearly legible. However, avoid files sizes that will make the document load very slowly.
- Present your design work in an intelligent and understandable way. Give the titles of projects, and annotate drawings as required
- Submit your portfolio by uploading a Word document to your application which has a link to a single PDF file using a sharing website such as Dropbox. Please make sure that the file is not password protected and the site and file are completely in English (if English is not your first language). No other format will be accepted.
- Hard copy portfolios or files on CD will be rejected. Separate jpeg files will also be rejected. One single PDF file is required and a CV and Personal statement must be included at the beginning of the file.
- HARD COPY PORTFOLIOS WILL NOT BE CONSIDERED.

Some advice on putting together your portfolio:

- You should include a range of academic and practice work
- Use this as an opportunity to show your breadth and range of experience
- We do not need every drawing from every project
- Feel free to include extra activities such as competitions, workshops, field trips
- This should be 10-12 sheets
- Please keep file size for this to a max of 20Mb
- You should submit this as a pdf. We do not accept links to online portfolios or shared drives.

Applicants to all MArch programmes in the Department of Architecture and Built Environment are required to submit a portfolio of their design work with their application. The portfolio enables us to see that you have some of the core skills required to be successful on an MArch course and to see the range of skills and types of projects that you have completed in your undergraduate degree.

The portfolio should be submitted with your admissions application in PDF format and less than 10Mb (please submit this directly to the MyNottingham application system).

The portfolio should have a:

- minimum of 10 and a maximum of 15 images
- letter confirming that this is your own work - the letter should come from a tutor or course teacher who has been responsible for you and should be on institution headed paper
- front cover of the portfolio which shows your full name

The portfolio should contain examples of a few design projects that you have completed as part of your taught university education. Try to show different presentation techniques that represent your design skills (such as plans, sections, perspectives, physical and computer models, etc). The images can be any from architectural, urban, planning or landscape projects that you have completed in your studies.

You may also include a few sketches, paintings, photographs, still life or life drawings to show your skills (maximum two pages) and an example of a project that you have completed as part of work experience or a professional placement (maximum two pages)

Portfolios will be judged on whether you have the visual skills required together with a keen sense of judgement and spatial awareness in your work.
